Mockup review notes

Creative Director: Brooke Adler

Developer: Natalie S

Notes

- I like the color and typeface choice
- The navigation is clear and understandable
- Maybe instead of separate pages, the website could be a continuous scroll with the headers leading to the different sections of the page
- I would like there to be more body copy for the sections that are about his paintings, for context
- We spoke about Natalie incorporating the two horizontal lines as a visual element elsewhere in the site, which could work
